BEIJING
FORESTRY UNIVERSITY

Beijing Forestry University, established in 1952, holds a distinguished status as a national key university directly administered by the Ministry of Education. It's jointly supported by the Ministry of Education, the National Forestry and Grassland Administration, and the Beijing Municipal Government.

Firmly rooted in biology and ecology, Beijing Forestry University boasts unique disciplines, including forestry, landscape architecture, ecology and nature conservation, grass science, and agro-economic management. Our commitment extends to fostering balanced and harmonious development across various fields, encompassing agriculture, science, engineering, management, economics, law, philosophy, education, and the arts.

Beijing Forestry University is building strong international partnerships through direct student and faculty engagement, collaborative projects, and scholarship that spans traditional boundaries. We proudly host students pursuing undergraduate, graduate, and non-degree programs from approximately 70 countries. Our enduring commitment lies in creating a welcoming environment for international students and scholars who enrich our academic landscape with diverse perspectives and innovative ideas.

Our undergraduate programs typically span four academic years and are predominantly conducted in Chinese. Upon meeting all degree requirements, graduates are conferred with a bachelor's degree.

Join us at Beijing Forestry University and become part of a vibrant academic community that values global diversity and innovation.

All undergraduate courses/programs are instructed in Chinese.*

BFU is not only a place for me to gain knowledge and skills, but also a comfortable home, a beautiful campus that combines natural beauty with aesthetic architecture. The abundance of student activities not only immersed me in university life, but also allowed me to maximize my skills and stimulated my creative thinking. The care of students and teachers also gives me a warm feeling and a sense of belonging, inspiring me to keep moving forward.
